Remembering the Saints

Walk around the church and look at the wall plaques.

These were given by people who wanted the community to remember this person who was special.

Think of someone special to you. Someone you want to remember.

Light a candle to say thank you to God for this person's life. Talk about what you remember about them and what made them special to you.

Saints Alive

Here are the stories of some real saints who lived in the past century.

Watch as many of the videos as you wish.

Then use the magnetic poetry to find some words that describe these people.

If wish, write a poem or a prayer about one of these people.

Paint a Saint

Throughout the centuries, people have painted a particular kind of picture of a saint called an “Icon”.

Icons are meant to be like windows – we don’t just see what the person looked like, but we hope that as we look at the picture, we sense something of their love or goodness in a very real way.

Paint your own icon of someone who is special to you, whose love and goodness might be an example and an inspiration to you.
